Alberta's 'Dry Corner' Now Looms Big Crop Producer

CALGARY. July 8.—A cropless drought land for nearly 10 years, Alberta's "dry corner"—the south-eastern tip of the province centering on Medicine Hat—is coming back.

Prospects are the best since 1928 for a good grain crop—optimism prevails and faith has been restored.

Fields which for years have baked under blistering suns and ravishing winds, give promise of bumper crops.

Bushels, a racy picture combined with a year ago when no crop was raised.

"They had given us up around here," said T. Jacobson, a wheat grower of the Walsh district. "For 10 years we got no crops at all and you couldn't give the farms away."

A real sign of improved conditions is that prairie grass is once more waving in the breeze. In the low places it is 12 inches tall; in some places it reaches 40 inches and feeds supplies for ranches and farmers.

National Conservative Party Marks Milestone

When Tory Chiefs Met To Choose Leader

TRADITION IS LOUDEST NOTE OF PLATFORM

Resolutions Sail Into Troubled Waters But Report Is Adopted

By NORMAN CAMPBELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, July 8.—The National Conservative Party voted a new platform Thursday, the first since the 1927 Winnipeg convention directed the party on its course.

The general theme of the platform, drafted at the national convention, was a statement of many traditional party policies. It spent down new roads in some respects. On one issue, revision of the constitution, the stand was "wait and see."

The convention failed into troubled waters at various times and on divers subjects but always where there was division, the resolution committee report, presented by Hon. N. B. Macpherson, was adopted by overwhelming majorities.

HIGHLIGHTS OF POLICY

Highlights of the statement of party policy by resolution were:

- Defence—Desire of Canada can best be promoted by closer co-operation with all members of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

- Railways—Opposition to any plan for unification or amalgamation of the Canadian National Railway and the Canadian Pacific Railway.

- Highways—Completion of the trans-Canada highway as a national undertaking.

- Immigration—Immigration of families from Great Britain, Ireland and France. Encouragement of the exclusion of Orientals from Canada.

TRADITIONAL POLICY

- Tariffs—Continued adherence to the Conservative party's traditional policy of advocating free trade between Canadian labor and Canadian industry, especially the primary industries of food, fur, forestry and mining.

- Constitution—The party reserves its division on the constitutional issue until the report of the Royal Commission on federal-provincial relations is made.

- Agriculture—The Conservative party pledges itself to preserve the home market for the Canadian farmer by protection of his resources. A complete system of federal public works and self-sufficient housing program. A national department of agriculture to administer relief.

- Cooperation with the provinces in apprenticeship, education, the encouragement and support throughout the plan of the provinces in employment and old retirement insurance.

- Without discussion from the floor in a peace and harmony atmosphere, the resolution was adopted by a vote of 100 to 10.

Premier Sends Congratulations New Tory Chief

OTTAWA, July 8.—Prime Minister Mackenzie King sent the following message to Dr. R. B. Manion when the latter was elected leader of the National Conservative Party.

"May I extend to you my cordial congratulations upon your election today as the leader of the Conservative Party of Canada, and upon the confidence thus expressed by the delegates assembled at the national convention, which was just concluding its session. I look forward to renewing contact with you in your capacity as leader of your party, the friendly relations we have enjoyed over many years in the public life of our country."

The new leader is Hon. Robert James Manion who brings to the office of opposition chief in Canadian politics experience gained in a varied career in medicine, war, politics and literature.

"I am your leader, I am not your commander," Dr. Manion had delegates gathered from every federal constituency, just after his selection yesterday from a field of five.

The election followed a three-day convention in which the party organization was revamped, the name changed from Liberal-Conservative to "National Conservative" and a series of resolutions embodying party policy adopted.

Only two ballots were required to elect Dr. Manion a majority over the other four candidates, Murdoch Macpherson, R. B. Manion, H. H. Macpherson and H. H. Macpherson.

Dr. Manion's total rose to 830, one less than his first vote, but he was elected by a vote of 475 to 136.

On the second ballot the new leader won 108 votes, dropped out and the two leaders both increased their strength at the expense of the other three.

Labor Preparing For Next Election Expected In 1939

By WEBB MILLER
British United Press—Exclusive Cable To The Bulletin.

LONDON, July 8.—The British Labor party has embarked upon a policy of convincing the electors they are fit to govern Great Britain. With a view to the next election, which is expected next year, they are planning a comprehensive campaign, the first step of which is to destroy the impression, existing since 1931, that they have neither the ability nor the talent necessary for government.

Labor's restrained and responsible policy, which would restore them to public favor, but since then they have had to contend with a country-wide impression, which is heavily based on the fact that the party has been in office since 1931, and that it has been in office since 1931, and that it has been in office since 1931.

Tory Leader Faces Tasks Of New Post

OTTAWA, July 8.—Many important decisions will be made by Dr. Manion now that he is National Conservative leader.

One of them is to select a national organizer and announce the organization of the National Conservative Council of some 50 members. A third task will be to deal with the requests which already have begun to pour in on him to speak in many parts of the Dominion.

Dr. Manion's first public appearance will be at the annual meeting of the National Conservative Council, which will be held in Toronto on July 10.

BULLS MAKE A MISTAKE IN BATTLE AREA

MADRID, July 8.—Three ineffectual bulls went out to graze on "no man's land" between the warring sides in a Government slaughter house. The animals nibbled their way ragged through an opening hastily made by Government sentries in their barred wire entanglements, outside Madrid. An extra ration of fresh meat went to the company holding the sector.

PARTY POLICY MAY HINGE ON HIS RECEPTION

WASHINGTON, July 8.—For the second time in less than 10 months, President Roosevelt will arrive in the United States. They are whether he will accept his re-election in 1938, and whether he will seek a short term to carry forward the new deal program to which he freshly named his flag in his broad address two weeks ago.

Two major political questions animate the 1938-40 political scene in United States. They are whether he will accept his re-election in 1938, and whether he will seek a short term to carry forward the new deal program to which he freshly named his flag in his broad address two weeks ago.

Raising A Family

By OLIVER

Destructiveness in a growing child is due to many things. First, to all he is too vital in his living. To have any great regard for care, second, he is impulsive and acts before he thinks. Third, his values are different from ours. He takes his mother's feet on his chest, but he yells his head off if we disturb the collection of string and iron in his pockets.

We have talked of property rights and ownership before, so however, there is another side to destructiveness. It is a child's way of showing that we should think about it. The small child is experimental and egotistical—that is, he has a tendency to revert to the savagery of recent ancestors. The growing child is prone to the same things. But this brings us to emotion, the rage and jealousy of developing years that have not reached the stage of control.

The child simply must learn control. He must learn to keep his hands or feet off the property of others or that of his possessions that represent our own effort and struggle. He must learn that rule won't be an excuse for stamping on the nose or throwing mud on the clothes line.

How can we train him? Shall he be punished? Must he be shown at once that license is prohibited, no matter how great his provocation?

My own idea is this. Yes, he must learn that quick refusal is his just desert when he breaks over the line. He has to learn, and quickly, to wear out his rage and jealousy some other way than by destructiveness.

Once an editor wrote to me and asked what should be done with a boy who deliberately took a fine watch and ground it beneath his heel. My answer to that was that this child must have been driven to despair by suppression and unjust treatment. But if he had no other reason than sheer wanton vandalism, my cure would have been a END swift whipping.

AFFECTS ADULT LIFE

It became an issue and I believe I was censured for being brutal, by some of my readers. What if the child had grown up feeling that he could get away with things that and receive only a few words of admonishment to pay for his delinquent conduct, in half a dozen years he would have found nobody so lenient. If he repeated his act or went still farther on the way of the savage.

I never have heard an outlaw. I understand the temptations of the human being to wreck the best china or throw an iron when provoked, but control must simply must be learned.

The child who seeks outlet in destruction deliberately tries his own or someone else's property in a savage. We must try to teach him control, but failing this, we must prevent him from doing more mischief to our own hands—and forced to show him the results of his explosion. A fire or a fall allows no selection as to result. Nature never compromises. Our social codes built on decency and collaboration, suggest almost complete extinction.

Naturally, I wish parents to look behind reasons. Often a child is driven desperate by injustice.

Study In Black And White

Here are two beautiful summer dance dresses in chalk white to set off sustained skin in dramatic fashion. The one on the girl at the table has a pleated decolletage that molds the figure, a skirt flares at the hemline and a pert little jacket of white silk fringe. The other model, right—decidedly Empire in feeling—is worn with a charming white marabou jacket.

Miss Norma Connolly Becomes Bride Of Mr. W. Filipenko

STETTLER, July 8.—Home of Dr. and Mrs. N. W. Connolly in Stettler was the scene of an interesting wedding ceremony on Monday recently when their eldest daughter, Norma Josephine Connolly, became the bride of William Filipenko, son of Mr. Michael Filipenko and the late Mrs. Filipenko. Pennies, columbines and yellow roses formed a lovely background for the marriage, which was solemnized by Rev. T. H. Chapman.

Wedding marches were played by Miss W. Herbert of Stettler. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was smart in a navy tailcoat with which she wore accessories in navy and white. Her carriage was of pink and white sweet peas. Miss Norma E. Connolly, R.N., of Edmonton, attended by sister, who the bridegroom was supported by his brother, Mr. Edward Filipenko.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served at the bride's home and later Mr. and Mrs. Filipenko left for a motor wedding trip to Banff and the Pacific coast. They will make their home in Stettler.

DOROTHY DIX Says:

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married 18 years and have a darling child. My husband has always been and kind to me and my family. We have a beautiful home luxuriously furnished. He gives me anything I want and it still seems to love with me. But he is the trouble. A young man much younger than myself has come along whose company I enjoy immensely, and I find myself planning things that I know will bring us together. My husband resents this. He does not quarrel, but every time I am with the other man he watches my every move and I can see that it is like a dagger thrust into his heart, and it is getting on my nerves to see him just around all the time. He is not at all like his old self and talks very freely. Is this because of his jealousy? Or because his love for me is so much more? I am entirely dependent upon my husband. Should I stop seeing the other man, or let my husband enjoy needlessly and try to cure him of his jealousy? TROUBLED.

Answer: Well, lady, you can't have your cake and eat it, too. You can't philander with your boy friend and expect your husband to sit around and like it. You wouldn't enjoy the situation if it was reversed and he was having an affair with a pretty young girl about half your age and he, too, would do some posturing yourself then.

There is no such thing as an innocent and harmless flirtation between a married man or a married woman and a young girl or boy. Every one of them is loaded with TNT and if they don't explode and blow every body concerned to Kingdom Come, it is just pure luck.

Because the mere fact that when a husband or wife gets a wandering foot and goes forth seeking adventure it shows that he or she has lost his or her taste for his or her mate and is no longer satisfied and happy at home. It is only after a man is fed up with domesticity that he begins to listen to the songs of the gold-diggers. It is only after a woman begins to wonder if some eligible boy has not been waiting for her since middle age husband that she begins to wander into forbidden paths, and no matter how much she protests she means no harm—harm and wrecked homes do come of it.

As for you, foolish lady, you need to be incarcerated in a padded cell until you come to your senses, for you are raising a good husband, a good home and luxurious living for a fling with a boy who probably wouldn't marry you if you were free to marry him and who couldn't support you if he did.

What you need to do is not to try to cure your husband of jealousy, but to cut out your philandering. And, if you don't, you will be mighty sorry for it. DOROTHY DIX.

According To Culbertson

By E. CULBERTSON

Dear Mr. Culbertson: On several occasions you have written that team-of-four contests with total point scoring offer the best test of skill and, since my club's team-of-four liked the daylight out of our rivals last night, I am eager to agree with you. Perhaps I have exaggerated the margin of victory. To be perfectly honest, it was only 470 points, and the hand I am enclosing accounted for all of this difference and little besides. When the opposition played the North-South hands the four spade contract was defeated one trick. When my partner played as declarer, however, he put over a last one on the dummy and sneaked home with the contract. I consider it a very interesting case of obscuring the defense.

North dealer. Team-of-four total point match. Both sides vulnerable.

Refrigerator Cake Has Warm Reception

A pleasant way to keep cool. Feed tea in twisted glasses of optic design that look frosty, a game of bridge on a white leather table and, on a side table, a tall pitcher of more iced tea with plenty of sliced lemon.

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
When the moon goes back and say "Now that was a desert," you've got to be a desert. From Nola Park in Cleveland, Ohio, where they put their recipes, come these two heart breakers.

FESTIVE 24-HOUR REFRIGERATOR CAKE

Nine eggs. 1 1/2 cups sugar. 1 1/2 cups oil. 1/2 cup flour. 1/2 cup cream of tartar. 1 teaspoon vanilla extract. 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract. 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Separate eggs. Beat white stiff until they stand in peaks with a wire whisk. Add sugar gradually. Beat egg yolks with extract until thick and lemony.

Add egg yolks to egg white mixture. Add flour which has been sifted once before being measured. Place in floured tub. Place in cold oven, set control at 300 F. Bake 1 hour.

Cool and prepare cake as follows. One cup cream, 1 cup granulated sugar, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1/2 cup vanilla, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 1 cup raspberry jam. 1 pint whipping cream.

Cut cake in three layers. Sprinkle first layer with pineapple juice spread over this half of the cake. Then half of jam. Place second layer on top and repeat filling. Place third layer on top and cover with whipped cream. Decorate cake with pineapple cut in wedges and red and green cherries. Put into refrigerator for 24 hours.

BLACK BOTTOM PIE

Thick—five old-fashioned ginger snaps, 1/4 pound butter, Roll. One cup fruit and 1/2 cup sugar. Mix well. Put into 9-inch pan. Bake 30 minutes at 300 deg. F.

Two tablespoons gelatin, 1 table-spoon cold water, 2 cups milk, 2

Royalty Again Pays Visit To Ascot

The above picture, one of the best informal photographs of the King and Queen ever made, shows them on their second drive in an open carriage to the race meeting at the Ascot course, a few days ago. Their Majesties are shown acknowledging the cheers of the crowd. Her Majesty's mother, the Countess of Strathmore, has since died.

Raises Crop At Last

Determined to vindicate their community the residents of Swift Current, Sask., set to this year to grow something, with the result shown, a really commendable sized crop of 'beards'. Everyone has done his bit, even to the barbers. The beard-growing drive was designed to create something for the 'Frontier Days' celebration staged July 1, to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the coming of the first white man, La Verendrye, to the prairies.

Slaps Society

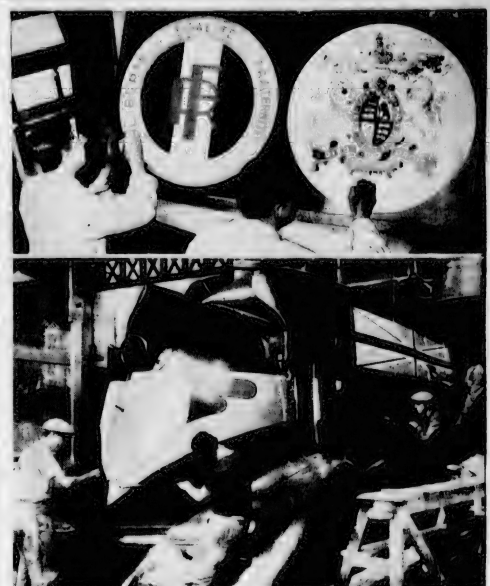

Sarcastic indeed is Mary Belle Tevis, above, member of a socially prominent New York family, when she tells why she forsok high society to make her own living as an artist's model. Said Miss Tevis in San Francisco, where she is working: 'I got out simply because I got tired of wasting time with fortune hunters, weaklings and gigolos.'

Tone-ina Up

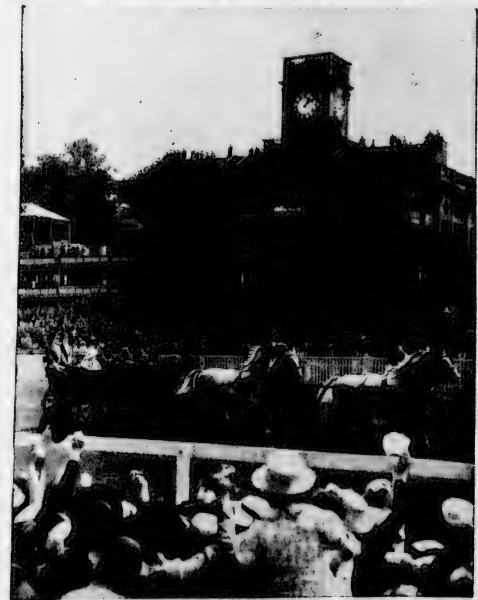

Hollywood bears rumors of a Joan Crawford-Franchot Tone marital rift, but there is certainly no trace of it in the above photo. Here are the Tones, apparently in perfect harmony, stylishly dressed and looking up at life—as they attended the races at a Hollywood track.

France Prepares For Royal Visit

When the King and Queen go to Paris this month they will be given a reception on which neither labor nor expense has been spared. Arrangements of the most lavish kind are being made for their entertainment and the train on which they are to travel from Boulogne to Paris is being completely renovated. Above are shown artists among the corps of squires on this detail of the preparations painting the coat of arms of Great Britain and the insignia of the French Republic on the locomotive. Below the Union Jack is being painted on the side of the locomotive.

The scene a few days ago at the most fashionable of British courses was brightened further by the visit of the King and Queen. They were given a most enthusiastic reception as they drove on the track in an open carriage. Cloudless skies helped make the gathering one of the most brilliant in many years. With the King and Queen in the carriage and reprieve them are the Duke of Kent, Balles, and the Earl of Harewood.

Cameraman's Seascope

Bomb Bust-Up

Great Balls of Fire! Oil Blaze Perils Town

Two huge balls of smoke and fire are pictured clearly above as they swirled upward in a spectacular blaze that threatened the whole town of Palm City, Calif. Fire trucks from four communities fought the distributing plant fire. Thousands of gallons of oil and gasoline burned and the storage tanks shown at left in the photo were barely saved.

He Mows the Lawn on His Trousers Seat

The lawnmower which you have been seeking for, in these many years, has come to reality in Millersville, Pa. Above is Alvin Lodge, unemployed machanic, who just sat and thought until he figured out how to just sit and mow, too. Lodge took the business section of a regulation mower and placed therein two motors, both of which can be regulated by the control line by his chair. When the speed of the two motors is the same, the mower runs straight ahead, but by diminishing the speed of one or the other, Lodge can make the machine turn right or left. The 16-foot wire is wound onto a revolving paint can, mounted on the mower, while an old barrel hoop and mixing bowl provide a bumper and shock absorber. Now Lodge can recline in the shade and read a newspaper while his invention runs around and cuts the grass.

Fire Losses Up

TORONTO, July 8.—Total fire losses in Canada for the week ending June 2 were estimated at $204,150, compared with $246,000 in the preceding week and $222,200 in the corresponding week of 1937.

THREE RYDER CUP STARS TAKE

Jimmy Bruen Fails to Qualify Final Round

SANDWICH, Eng., July 8.—Bill Cox, Jack Busson and Dick Burton led the field at the halfway mark of the British Open championship last night but the three Ryder Cup players' pace-setting 140s going into today's final 35 holes.

With 37 scoring 148 or better to qualify, every man in the field had at least an outside chance of winning.

Busson and Burton both slipped a stroke off the Royal St. George's course par of 70 to earn their places at the top stroke with Cox who put together two par 70s for his double total.

STROKE BEHIND

A stroke behind at 141 were Bert Gadd and Jim Adams, who scored 70 and 71, respectively. In the second round, Ronald A. Whitehouse held the 182 all by himself, a stroke ahead of a little known player, G. F. Foster.

Chief disappointment of the day was Jimmy Bruen, 16-year-old Irish Walker Cup player, and three former open champions—Henry Cotton, the defending titleholder, Alf Pashan and Alf Pavy.

Bruen, after sharing the opening day lead with a 70, fell off 120 strokes in a 20-hole round of 120 that left him outside the quali-

McLemore Meanders Around Sport Fronts

By HENRY McLEMORE
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 8.—Stay away from Maxie Baer if you want to save your money. He talks the best fight of any heavyweight I know. With a portfolio of baby snapshots to back up his arguments he almost had me ready to bet Joe Louis wouldn't last three rounds against him next September.

The U.S.L.T.A. already is casting around for a successor to Don Butler who can handle him in full a promise to the tennis fathers to let him earn a professional.

This week-end, the British Davis Cup challenge match is being played at Wimbledon.

Ralph Guldahl has been made the first favorite to win the P.G.A. at Salt Lake on Delaware on the strength of his victory in the U.S. Open. He is making a clever player like him to beat Joe Caplanese who just lost cause he played on the same kind of a board.

Guldahl is strictly a mental player and the P.G.A. is strictly a match tournament.

JUST KICKING DIZ

The Glasgow club has been in financial trouble since last year. It was a pity to see the club's name in the papers.

With interest mounting, Diz was at the top of the list.

Wine, beer, and other things were sold at the club.

Ideal Weather Conditions Promise Splendid Grain Crops For Prairies

WHEAT BEGINS HEADING OUT IN ALBERTA

Heavy Rains and Warm Weather Make Conditions Exceptionally Good

WINNIPEG, July 8.—Warm weather with heavy rains in some districts and general scattered showers have improved conditions throughout the prairie provinces during the past week.

Northern Saskatchewan and Peace River districts which were in some danger last week, benefited from a rainfall of from two to four inches over the last week and in general crop prospects are excellent at the present time, according to the weekly crop report of the department of agriculture, Canadian National railways.

In the Calgary division the general outlook has been further improved with ample moisture for the present. Early wheat is heading out and all grains are reported in first-class condition. Pastures are daily improving and a good yield of crop appears assured. In the division south of Calgary there has been cloudy and warm, turning cooler, with week-end with heavy rains at that time.

Moisture conditions are now excellent, wheat is heading, and corn should fill out well. No very large damage reported from grasshoppers and recent rains have improved the cut-worms. The outlook in general at the present time for the best crop in several years.

Throughout the entire Peace River territory heavy rains were experienced last week, and more rain is required in the Grande Prairie and Smoky Lake districts. Grain is showing improvement and heading up well. In the Peace River subdivision the outlook is three to four weeks ahead of the rest of the province. In many cases in the first half of the season the crop has been through and is available for market. The outlook for the remainder of the season is excellent. A good crop is expected to be harvested.
